

Holy Creek hosts local author Colleen Smith at book signing

If you weren't a fan of Colleen Smith, you will be after reading Glass Halo, her first novel.

Smith, a Denver native, has written articles for newspapers and magazines on topics ranging from church to chrysanthemums.

Now, she ventures into the realm of fiction with Glass Halo, and she does her usual excellent job.

One way to describe it is it's a love story; but not like you might think.

According to the dust jacket, it's a story of two people who "confront the mysteries of life and death, love and lust, spirituality and creativity."

Colleen Smith

Smith brings her years of observation of art and her deep roots in Denver to tell a compelling story in her trademark fluid, vivid and almost musical writing.

If you're looking for a last-minute gift, this is a good one for most adults.

And if you're going to wait until next year, Smith will be at a book signing at 1:30 p.m. Jan. 6, 2011, at Holly Creek Retirement Community, 5500 E. Peakview Ave., Centennial. It is open to the public, but RSVP to 720-266-5611.

For information about Glass Halo, or to order, visit www.FridayJonesPublishing.com or www.GlassHaloNovel.com.